Julius Johnson is a native of Lexington, KY. His field of expertise revolves around prison reentry and working with individuals to find their path to success. He is the Director of the Reentry Program at the Lexington Rescue Mission as well as a Street Outreach Worker with the ONE Lexington Safety Net Initiative. As a Street Outreach Worker, Julius engages with individuals and families who are either involved in or impacted by gun violence to connect them to available resources and opportunities they need and desire. Through his own past experiences and success in his reentry story, Julius is bringing a passionate heart to men and women who are on their own personal journey.
